

The newly established Professorship for Agricultural, Food and Environmental Policy (Prof. Dr. Martin Petrick), Institute of Agricultural Policy and Market Research, Faculty Agricultural Sciences, Nutritional Sciences and Environmental Management, invites applications for a full-time position of a

Lecturer in Agricultural, Food and Environmental Policy (Lehrkraft für besondere Aufgaben)

to be appointed permanently. In agreement with current regulations, the position is on the TV-H E 13 scale for public employees (100%).

Tasks:

- Lecturer according to § 66 HHG, appointed for teaching at university level in German and English language in the study courses of agricultural, nutritional and environmental sciences and the English language MSc course Transition Management.
- Contributions to research, teaching and knowledge transfer activities of the professorship, especially with regard to the two focal areas of the professorship (regulation of agricultural value chains and agricultural development in transition economies).

Expected profile:

- Master's and PhD degree in agricultural or resource economics, economics, development studies or related fields,
- An established academic profile in the area of agricultural or resource policy or development or transition economics,
- Educational eligibility, teaching experience at an university for at least three years,
- A track record of international publications and the acquisition of third-party funding,
- Excellent proficiency in German and English languages (speaking and writing). Knowledge of Russian is an advantage.

The Justus Liebig University Giessen seeks to support women in scientific research. Therefore we strongly encourage women to apply for the available position. As a family friendly institution of higher education, Justus Liebig University Giessen welcomes applicants with children. The position can be divided into two half-day positions.

Please send your application (CV, transcripts or degree certificates, a brief statement of teaching interests and contact details of two referees) by November 30th, 2018 to the President of Justus Liebig University Giessen, Erwin-Stein-Gebäude, Goethestrasse 58, 35390 Giessen, Germany, stating the application number 691/27392/09. Please send additionally a copy by e-mail to martin.petrick@agrar.uni-giessen.de as a single pdf file. Preference will be given to disabled applicants with equal qualifications.